Prem. Brownlee Explains Transfer Resources and Gives Reasons Therefor

Becomes Effective When Ratified by Both Provincial and Dominion Governments — Negotiations On For Many Years

Edmonton, Feb. 11.—Alberta's natural resources came one step nearer home control on Monday in the Legislature when Premier J. E. Brownlee moved second reading of the bill authorizing the ratification of the agreement signed, early in December, between the Dominion and Provincial governments.

In his speech the Premier gave a resume of the whole natural resources question and outlined the more important phases of the agreement. The agreement, he said, would be effective when ratified by both Dominion and Provincial governments and by the mother of parliaments, Manitoba hoped to celebrate its 50th anniversary on July 1, and was hopeful that all formalities would be completed by this time. He could see no reason why this could not be done, although in Alberta's case the transfer of clerical records, owing to their greater number, would be a more lengthy process.

The agreement now before the House was undoubtedly the most important piece of legislation that members of the sixth legislature had been asked to consider or would be asked to deal with, during their terms as members.

In support of this he reminded them that the transfer of the resources involved the return to the Province of about 100,000 acres of land; 3,000,000 acres of timber lands; petroleum rights; $10,000,000 in cash, as the amount of the school lands fund; and control of such other items as power and mineral rights and other economic matters.

The present agreement was more generous than any demands made by the province since the commencement of the premiership of Hon. Charles Stewart as would be shown by a reference to the debates in the House from 1921 to 1925.

Improved Offer
In 1925 an agreement was reached with the Dominion government which was submitted to the Legislature and agreed to unanimously at the 1926 session. The present agreement was much more generous than it. The basis of the 1926 agreement was an accounting since 1905, the same as in the present one and the 1926 agreement also, which was agreed to by representatives of all parties now in the House, provided for a similar plan of alienated resources the same as the present one. Therefore, in principle the agreements were the same, only at present the terms were more generous.

Even one year ago, if public opinion had been caught correctly, there was general agreement that Premier McKenzie King's offer which provided for the transfer of the resources and a subsidy of $562,000 annually in perpetuity.

Within a year this offer had improved to the extent that the resources were to be returned and in addition the annual subsidy was to increase with population until a maximum of $1,125,000 a year was reached.

In addition a commission had been appointed to inquire into the possibility of further payments being due Alberta to put it on an even footing with other provinces.

There was in the province a total of 161,872,000 acres of land, of which 87,393,000 had been surveyed and 73,382,000 yet unsurveyed.

A Department of the Interior survey report, the latest he had available, showed that, as at March 21, 1928, there were still available 15,000,000 acres of surveyed land. In addition there were in the surveyed areas a total of 2,150,000 acres of timber lands; 2,900,000 acres of forest reserves; and 11,000,000 acres of grazing lands.

Huge Land Areas
Over and above this were 2,300,000 acres of school lands to be disposed of. This amount represented a trust fund for educational purposes of $8,500,000.

The average price for Alberta school lands had been $14 per acre as compared to $30 in Saskatchewan, but if this price was raised by $10 an acre the school funds could be boosted by $20,000,000.

The Premier then quoted extensively from a report made by the Peace River basin by Frank H. Killo, of the Dominion Department of the Interior, giving statistics as to the hours of sunshine a day during the year, the length of the growing season and other scientific data, all of which went to show that the climate was ideal for agriculture.

MINNEHIK MAN ACCQUITTED ON HORSE STEALING CHARGE

There was only one criminal case at the regular sitting of the Supreme Criminal Court here, presided over by the Honorable Mr. Justice Walsh, this week.

This was the case of Rex vs. William J. Fox, of Minnehik Post Office, charged with stealing a grey mare, the property of Alfred J. Virgin, of Minnehik Post Office, in the month of October, 1928. The facts are briefly as follows: In the spring of 1928, one Alfred J. Virgin of the Post Office of Minnehik, shipped a number of horses from Montana to the Buck Lake district, in this Province, among them being a grey mare, three years old, branded 2 on the right shoulder, which he had raised. In the fall of 1928 this grey mare strayed away and Virgin, the owner, did not see her again until the month of August, 1929. When riding in the district of Rimbey, in August, he saw a grey mare near the road with the brand 2 on the right shoulder, and decided that it was his long-lost grey mare.

He investigated the matter and found that this animal was in possession of one R. E. Marshall, a farmer of the district of Rimbey, and had been traded to him by the accused, Fox, in the month of October, 1928. The trade took place in a dimly lighted stable, and there was no evidence that the accused had any knowledge of the brand. Numerous witnesses were called on behalf of both Crown and defence. The accused claimed that he had dealings for a horse with the late Dalton Tipping, of Wolf River Ranch, which horse had strayed away, and in dealing with Mr. Marshall he had thought he was dealing of the horse which he had obtained from the late Mr. Tipping.

The case occupied all day Monday, and the jury returned a verdict of acquittal on the charge of stealing the animal was Virgin's mare and ordered its return to Virgin, the complainant, but was not satisfied, beyond a reasonable doubt, as to the guilt of the accused, and dismissed the charge.

W. H. Odell appeared for the Crown, and Alex. Knox for the accused.

The civil case of Knight vs. Gulek, was tried before Mr. Justice Walsh at the sittings of the Court here this week. Judgment was reserved.

Odell & Russell for the plaintiff and Loggie & Manley for the defendant.

NO REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR ISSUE

Edmonton, Feb. 6.—Submission to the public of a referendum on the liquor question prior to the crystallization of opinion on the matter is not likely, Premier J. E. Brownlee told a delegation from the Alberta Prohibition Association Thursday night.

The Premier said that while he is personally in favor of prohibition legislation for Alberta, nothing would be more destructive to the future of the province than for the government to move too hurriedly in the matter of changes in liquor legislation.

The Premier also stated quite frankly that the government was not interested in increasing liquor sales. He said that the cabinet had been considering the appointment of an outstanding man who would visit all the schools of the province for the purpose of pointing out to the younger people the evil of the drink habit and to lay the foundations for the building up of traditions against the consumption of liquor.

The problem of liquor consumption, he pointed out, was one of the oldest in the history of this civilization, and one that will be wrestled with both by governments and people thousands of years from now.

Among other resolutions presented by the delegation was one asking for legislation providing for the complete abolition of all private and licensed sale of intoxicating beverages, including sale of beer in beer halls, clubs and cantenens.

The Premier expressed surprise that the delegation had not requested that this question be put to the people in the form of a referendum, instead of asking the government to abolish beer halls without first consulting the people. He pointed out that social evils could not be controlled by legislative means. The will of the people must first be tested, and if the greater majority went on record in favor of certain legislation, the government had no alternative but to bow to the will of the people, no matter what the personal opinion of the Premier and his ministers might be.

Town Topics

R. J. Grant was at Calgary the fore part of the week on business.

Mrs. Aaron Anderson, who has been confined to bed for about a month, is now able to be up most of the time.

Miss Cairns had the misfortune to sprain an ankle while skidding on the Peace Hill a few evenings ago. She is getting along as well as could be expected.

The many friends of Mr. Reuben Pearson will be glad to know that he is convalescing nicely after the operation he underwent in Edmonton, and is now staying with his parents on the home farm.

Mr. Crawford of Leduc, assisted in the services in the First United Church on Sunday last by rendering excellent violin selections at both the morning and evening services. Mrs. Ashbridge, choir leader and organist, soloists at the evening service very impressively.

We have been informed that Stanford Espedal, who is now a teacher at the Old School of Agriculture, as well as orchestra leader, will broadcast with his orchestra from the Red Deer station on Monday evening next, 6:45. No doubt many of his friends in this community will listen in to hear this orchestra.

Rev. Appel will be out of the city Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, as he is attending the Convention of the Walther League of Young People, Stoney Plain. Rev. Appel will conduct the Bible studies at this convention. Other visitors from the Young Lutherans of the Wetaskiwin district will be leaving on Thursday and Friday.

The annual meetings of the Municipal Districts of Alberta will be held on Saturday of this week. The Municipal District of Montgomery meets in the U.F.A. hall, the M.D. of Bigstone meets in the Long Riders hall, and the M.D. of Columbia meets at Battle Lake. All meetings are called for one o'clock. Nominations for the office of councillors takes place from three to four o'clock.

Arthur Ward had the misfortune to strain the ligaments of one of his knees a few days ago while playing with some children at his school near Falun. He was brought to his home in Wetaskiwin for treatment, and we understand the injured member is now in a plaster of paris cast. Mr. Ward's school is temporarily closed.

BIG INCREASE IN JAIL POPULATION

Edmonton, Feb. 6.—Alberta's jail population showed a daily average increase of 80 persons during the year ending March 31, 1929, compared with 60 for the previous year. The increase was said to be the greatest in the history of the province for any one year.

The report of W. G. Edgerton, warden of the Lethbridge jail, showed that the average daily population for 1929 was 150, compared to 107 for the previous year. A total of 1,208 prisoners was received during the year, and 1,171 were discharged during the same period.

It cost the government exactly $450.25 to keep one prisoner one year. At the Lethbridge jail the percentage of increase over the previous year was 38. Prisoners admitted during the year numbered 1,343 and 1,227 prisoners were discharged during the same period.

The per capita cost a prisoner a year in this jail was given as $302.27.

FIRST OF SERIES B.P.O.E. PARTIES

The first of a series of whist parties was held in the Elks hall on Wednesday evening, February 5th, under the auspices of B.P.O.E. Lodge No. 91. The ladies' first prize (a set of silverware) went to Mrs. D. Baker, while the winner of the gentlemen's first prize (a Wahl pen and pencil set) was Mr. Forbes Atkinson. Dancing followed the card games, the music being supplied by Messrs. Allan, Atkinson and Condie, and Messrs. Chandler and Atkinson.

The whist parties are to be held every other Wednesday evening, the next one falling on February 19th. Good prizes are to be given each evening, and at the end of the season the person having the highest score will receive a special prize.

On her first ocean voyage, an old lady asked the captain: "What is that down there?" "That's the steering, madam," he replied. "Really?" she exclaimed in surprise. "And does it take all those people to make the boat go straight?"

B.P.O.E. LODGE INSTAL OFFICERS AND HOLD SOCIAL EVENING

On Tuesday evening in the Elks Hall, the following were installed by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler W. H. Heller, Edmonton, to control the destinies of the B.P.O.E. 91, Wetaskiwin, for the ensuing year: Past Exalted Ruler—Bro. Bruce D. Howatt.

Exalted Ruler—Bro. Jesse E. Burkholder. Leading Knight—Bro. Taylor. Loyal Knight—Bro. Farnham. Lecturing Knight—Bro. Gothard. Treasurer—Bro. Richards. Secretary—Bro. McMurdo. Inner Guard—Bro. Long. Tyler—Bro. Baker. Trustee—Bro. Montgomery. Esquire—Bro. Mier. Chaplain—Bro. Atkinson.

The Elks had as their guests during the installation, the members of the Order of the Royal Purple. After the ceremonies in the hall, the Bills escorted their ladies to the supper hall, where a sumptuous spread had been prepared by Bro. Geo. Long. After the inner man had been appeased, Exalted Ruler Burkholder, who was chairman for the evening, welcomed the guests to the festive board, and stressed upon the officers the responsibilities they had just accepted, and charged them together with all the members, with support and co-operation during the year. He then called upon Past Exalted Ruler Bruce D. Howatt and E. D. O'Neill, who addressed the gathering briefly on "The Good of the Order."

At this time little Miss Forbes Atkinson, with her flowing locks, entered and took the hall by storm with the rendering "Give me back the days of my Childhood." This was followed by a presentation of a pair of gold cuff links to the retiring secretary, Bro. Ohas. D. Enman, to which he fittingly replied. Mrs. Jim Dixon was then called upon and gave a parody on Maggie and Jiggs, which was much appreciated.

The chairman then introduced Bro. McIlhenny who had just come in, and he was given a hearty welcome after his recent illness. This was followed by a presentation of a gold watch to Mrs. Burkholder, and a gold watch to Mrs. Burkholder, and a gold watch to Mrs. Burkholder.

The evening's entertainment was brought to a close after two hours of dancing, the music being supplied by Messrs. Burkholder, Condie and Atkinson, assisted by Bro. Atkinson and Thompson.

Obituary

MABEL REECE
The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Reece, north of the city, in the loss of their infant daughter, Mabel, who passed away at the Wetaskiwin hospital on Sunday at the age of seven months. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, service being conducted at the residence by Rev. A. L. Elliott. The remains were tenderly laid away in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

WARNER GOES TO NEW ZEALAND

A recent issue of the Edmonton Journal stated that: Sole representative of Canada, D. W. Warner, well known farmer of the Edmonton district, will leave here on Saturday night over the C.P.R. en route to New Zealand to attend the annual meeting of the British National Union of Empire Farmers. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Warner.

Members of the organization will gather from all parts of the empire for the tour and convention which will take some three months. After travelling through New Zealand for a month, the party will go on to Australia, studying farming and marketing methods.

RADIO OPERATORS FINED; NO LICENSES

W. G. D. Allan of the Marine and Fisheries Department, Ottawa, was in Wetaskiwin a few days ago, checking up on the radio licenses. He found three citizens who had not procured licenses, and he had them charged before Mr. Angus, police magistrate, with operating a radio without having obtained a license. They were each fined $2.00 and costs.

Town Topics

Mrs. K. J. Bjorkgren left last Friday for Seattle, where she will stay a month or two visiting her daughters.

The weather during the past week has been ideal, although a cold spell commenced Tuesday night, when the thermometer registered 22 below.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church will be held on Tuesday, February 18th, at 3 o'clock, in the Sunday school rooms of the church.

Rev. Wickstrom conducted service in Malmo last Sunday, in spite of the roads being impassable for cars. The team he used, belonging to Mr. Alb. Swanson, made that day about 50 miles with ease.

Mrs. Victor Scott received the sad news a few days ago that her father had passed away at the old home in Nova Scotia. The sympathy of the community will be extended to her in her bereavement.

A meeting of all interested in the formation of a band in Wetaskiwin, will be held in the Armories (Parish Hall) on Tuesday evening, February 25th, at 8 o'clock. All old players and anyone wishing to start in are specially requested to attend.

Mrs. Floyd Spencer entertained a few of her friends on Monday afternoon, the occasion being her wedding anniversary. After a very enjoyable social hour was spent a delicious lunch was served. Those present were Mesdames Page, Beavo, Cole, Portis, Bye, Trca, Holmes, Roulet and Miss E. Spencer.

Rev. P. C. Wade received the sad news on Thursday last that his father, Rev. J. M. C. Wade, Hantsport, N.S., had passed away. The deceased gentleman, who had been a priest in the Anglican Church for 45 years was 75 years of age. The interment will take place in the family plot at Annapolis, N.S., where the deceased was in charge of the Anglican church for many years. Rev. P. C. Wade, who left for the East on Thursday night of last week, will have the sympathy of the community in his hour of sorrow.

The Wetaskiwin Players are booked to stage "Turn To The Right," in the Bailey Theatre, Camrose, on Thursday, February 27th, under the auspices of B.P.O.E. No. 70. This is one of the very best productions ever presented on the Auden Theatre stage, the play itself having enjoyed a long run in New York city, as well as leading cities of America. It is a wonderfully interesting show and the particularly strong and well selected cast of the Players will doubtless make a great hit in their Camrose performance.

TRADE ACCIDENTS COST 72 LIVES IN 1929

Edmonton, Feb. 7.—Employers of labor and employees throughout Alberta contributed $1,373,771.04 to defray cost of medical service and compensation for the 11,399 workmen who suffered injuries in industrial accidents during the year 1929, according to the annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board of Alberta, which was tabled in the Legislature, Friday afternoon, by Premier J. E. Brownlee.

Seventy-two men were killed, 146 permanently disabled, and 14,551 suffered injuries from which they subsequently recovered. It was the largest number of accidents reported in any one year since the act came into force twelve years ago. The extensive building programme and increasing industrial activity were given as the two main causes for the large number of accidents.

MOOSEHEART LEGION HOLDS CARD PARTY

One of the most enjoyable evenings of the season, in the form of a card party, was held in the Moose Hall on Friday, February 7th, under the auspices of the Women of Mooseheart Legion Chapter No. 559.

At 8 o'clock fifteen tables of "500" began a keen contest, which ended with ladies' first prize, a table runner donated by Mrs. Braglin, going to Mrs. Sellar, and gent's prize, a silk scarf donated by Mrs. Williams, going to Mr. Ed. Johnson. The consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Nelson and Mr. Shaw. A dainty lunch was then served, followed by an hour's dancing. Great praise must be given the committee in charge, who had the hall decorated in a very artistic manner, on the successful way in which the affair was carried out.

ALBERTA'S MOUTH HEALTH CRUSADE

The important bearing that the condition of the teeth has upon the general health of the individual is to be brought to the attention of the people of this province in a forceful way in a sixty-day campaign beginning on February 17th. In every part of Alberta addresses will be given, stories told, films and lantern slides shown, and illustrated pamphlets distributed, all teaching the great lesson that sickness and suffering and even death may be caused by the neglect of the teeth.

In this work all the philanthropic and service organizations of the community are expected to co-operate. Churches and schools and clubs will play a particularly prominent part. The public will be shown how they may prevent the decay of the teeth by eating the right kind of food, balancing their diet, and brushing the teeth in a regular and systematic way. They will be informed about the filth that collects in the mouth because of diseased teeth and about the best measures to be taken to deal with such conditions.

Nor will the campaign be confined to educational work. The mouths of all the children in the schools will be inspected, in which task every dentist will put in two days of his time without charge.

The campaign is being put on by the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council, a national-wide organization composed of public spirited persons of all classes, who will work through the Alberta Dental Association, with the active co-operation of the Provincial Departments of Health and Education. For the purpose of the campaign the Province will be divided into twenty-two districts each with its own chairman and local campaign organization. Every citizen in Alberta is in one of these twenty-two districts and has an opportunity to help.

The growing generation should be healthier than the one that preceded it because of this dental crusade, and a lot of misery on the part of adults due to lack of knowledge and care of the teeth should be obviated.

On Thursday, February 24th, Dr. H. D. Thompson, the field secretary of the Canadian Oral Hygiene Association, will be in Wetaskiwin in connection with the province-wide mouth health campaign. In the afternoon the school children will go to the Auden Theatre to hear Dr. Thompson and to see a film.

The campaign will be divided into three groups—primary, intermediate and high school grades—and each group addressed separately. Any adults who wish to see the pictures and hear Dr. Thompson in the afternoon, are invited to go to the theatre with the last named group. In the evening a supper is to be given at the Grand Hotel under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, at which members of other service clubs and social welfare organizations are asked to be present to hear Dr. Thompson.

WETASKIWIN SEED FAIR NEXT WEEK

The Seed Fair, which is to be held on Friday of next week, February 21st, will be a very successful affair, providing the grain growers of this community bring in their exhibits. The grain grown in this district last season was the best in Western Canada and there is no reason why the seed fair next week should not have the very best samples in competition. Let every farmer do his share to make the fair a success.

It is expected that Major Strange will attend the fair and deliver an address during the afternoon.

1728 PENSIONERS IN PROVINCE

Edmonton, Feb. 10.—A total of 1,728 men and women over 70 years of age are now receiving the Old Age Pension in Alberta, according to the first pensioners' check with the end of February. Excluding these 1,728, the balance of 1,535 pensioners were paid $168,896 during the six months' period under review, or an average monthly pension per person, of approximately $18.35.

The report, tabled by Premier Brownlee in the Legislature on Friday, shows that 4,266 enquiries were received for pensions in the last five months of 1929, of which number, 1,239 were found ineligible.

Illustrates Remarks With Charts and Gives Statistics as to Food Values of Meats, Vegetables and Fruits

The Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club held another very enjoyable meeting on Tuesday evening, when Kiwanian Curt Smith gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on the subject "How to become a perfect physical specimen." Mr. Smith has given this subject a life-long study, and illustrated his remarks by charts of the body as well as statistics showing the food values of various meats, vegetables and fruits. He outlined the process of food entering the body and the effect it had on the system. A person should know what to eat and when to eat. Never eat too much. If too much is eaten and is not properly digested, it is injurious rather than beneficial. If one is sluggish, do not eat meat. Fruits are most valuable for indigestion and have a soothing effect on the kidneys and liver. No meat should be eaten without green vegetables, either raw or properly cooked. Children should eat lots of vegetables, especially spinach, and cheese should be eaten sparingly after meals. Good meat must have lots of fat, or they will be tough, but the fat should not be eaten. Too much fried food should not be eaten. Get all vegetables from the soil if possible, but if this is impossible, eat canned vegetables. Dates, figs and nuts are fattening, and should not be eaten too freely after a heavy meal. Mr. Smith emphasized the importance of eating brown and whole wheat bread, and referred to an experiment which he conducted recently. He took three pens of mice. One pen was fed nothing but milk and they died in four and one-half days. Another pen was fed nothing but white bread and they died in five days. The third pen was fed nothing but whole wheat bread and were turned out after fourteen days—and returned for more. Garlic was used as an antiseptic and was also good for rheumatism and other diseases. Mr. Smith also enumerated a list of foods which would be digested in one hour, two hours, up to five hours. Proper sleep and proper dieting are conducive to good health.

Kiwanian Dr. Gunderson, district trustee, who attended the Western Canada convention at Moose Jaw recently, gave a very interesting and comprehensive report of the convention. The meeting was well attended, and the different phases of Kiwanis activities, especially the underprivileged child, were discussed.

TRUSTEES OPPOSE NEW SCHOOL ACT

Strong opposition to the proposed new School Act was expressed by a number of delegates at the Alberta School Trustees' convention on Wednesday afternoon when Hon. Perren Baker, minister of education, outlined to the meeting the legislation which has been considered for the past year and which is to be again introduced to the house at its present session.

After reviewing the steady growth of the present educational system in the province and emphasizing the improvements which have been effected during the past ten years, the minister reaffirmed his belief in the principles involved in the new legislation. He recalled the steps leading up to the evolution of the proposed act and outlined the advantages which it would bring to the school districts throughout the province, emphasizing the benefits to the weaker districts which would result from the equalization of the educational tax.

While asserting his belief in the general principles of the new bill, he admitted that a number of clauses might have to be considerably modified if the legislation were to be assured of sufficiently strong public opinion to ensure its successful operation.

Following the minister's defence of the bill, a number of delegates suggested improvements which might be effected in the present system which would give equally as good satisfaction as the proposed act. A carefully prepared five-minute paper presented by James McConnell of Nevis, outlined the position of the opposition element. This deplored the fact that resolutions passed at previous conventions had not been acted on by the government. ALBERTA MOUTH
HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Alberta already occupies a very enviable position among the Provinces of Canada from the standpoint of matters of health and the education of the people in matters pertaining to their physical well being. Now it is proposed that the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council, working in co-operation with the Provincial Department of Health and Education, the Alberta
Dental Association and the Alberta
Red Cross Society, will carry the gospel of preventive dentistry to every man, woman and child in a Province-wide campaign, commencing February 17, 1930.

The most important time in the development of human teeth is before birth and during the first seven years of the child's life. Almost one hundred per cent of the children and adults of today have decayed teeth and these are the primary causes of many of the serious diseases. In fact, we have given our teeth too little concern.

Preventive dentistry does not mean visits to the dentist's office. It means correct habits of living, balanced diet and proper attention to mouth cleanliness and oral hygiene. Speakers who can deal with these matters authoritatively will bring to the people of the province what the scientists have discovered with regard to the importance of the care of the teeth of the growing child.

HELP PREVENT FIRE

- 1.—Never allow children to play with matches. Teach them to only use them when necessary.
- 2.—Never hang any clothes over a stove fire.
- 3.—Never keep any gasoline or kerosene near matches or stove. To prevent any fear it is best never to keep any of that liquid in the house.
Never cleanse your clothes or get with gasoline in the house; do it doors and don't rub.
- 4.—Never put any burned ashes in a wooden basket or any other article that is wood. There is liable to be a spark left in the ashes.
- 5.—Never allow electric iron to overheat. Smoke ascends from it and causes fire. Don't leave the room with the iron turned on.
Something might detain you longer than you expected.
- 6.—Never smoke a cigar or cigarette in bed for it can easily cause fire.
- 7.—Never throw a burned match on the floor, for a little spark can result in a large fire.

THE GREAT HUNGER

Five million human beings have already perished from famine in China, two million more are doomed in one province alone and the food supplies of another two million will be exhausted before the end of February, according to reliable reports that have recently been received by China Famine Relief, United States.
A cable from the Shanghai correspondent of the Associated Press, which describes the famine situation
as "the worst in human history," states, on the authority of George Andrews, missionary and relief worker, that many of the famishing population of the provinces of Shensi, Kansu and Shensi have resorted to cannibalism in order to remain alive.
Mr. Andrews thus confirms rumors of this gruesome practice that have been current for some time. "Stories of cannibalism are entirely true," he said on his return to Shanghai, recently, after nine months of work in the Kansu region, combating famine and typhus. "I have witnessed many instances of it," he says. "Central Kansu," he declared, "was covered with bodies of famine victims, and huge pits, deep as excavations for skyscrapers, have been filled with other dead. Thousands more have been frozen to death in the cold wave which swept over Northern China last December, the severest in sixty years." Mr. Li Wei Chen, a Journalist from Shanghai, who visited Canada recently, said to the Toronto Star:

"I believe that there are at least fifty-seven million of our people who have almost no food to eat."—New Outlook.

SHALL CANADA CON-TROL WHEAT PRICES?

One of the most dramatic struggles which this country has ever witnessed has been in progress for some months and still continues with no immediate prospect of settlement.
The great Wheat Pool of the Canadian West is fighting for a fair price for this year's wheat, and is withholding the wheat from the world markets until it secures the price which it thinks is its due. Our best market, Britain, has been absorbing Argentine wheat in large quantities, and at low prices, so low in fact that the Argentine farmer is now in an embarrassed financial position. The Pool officials declare that this supply of Argentinian wheat will soon be exhausted, and the British market will be compelled to purchase Canadian wheat at what the Western farmer believes to be a fair price. On the other hand the British grain buyers are rather difficult to persuade, the more so as they realize that if the Pool wins this time it will be all the more difficult to get cheap wheat in the years to come. There is also, unfortunately, the feeling in Canada is trying to hold up the British buyer, and this does not do us any good,
as it creates a prejudice against Canadian products which may damage us in the future. Efforts have been made to cause the British public to understand that the Pool is not trying to get the last cent out of the British consumer but, despite all, this impression seems still to obtain. And so the colossal struggle is being waged, with Canada sending about one hundred and twenty million bushels less wheat across the ocean than last year and the feeling in the West is that elevators are filled to overflowing with the last year's crop. It is claimed that there is a world shortage of wheat mounting to three hundred and fifty million bushels, and if this is so the Pool ought to win. But the British are rather stubborn fighters and have long memories, and even a win may not be all to the good. In any case, the struggle promises to be one which will be long remembered, and one the like of which has never been witnessed before. And there is the further consideration that if the Canadian Pool wins there is a very distinct prospect that there will be another Pool organized amongst the United States farmers, which might mean a good deal to the European customer, who needs the flour that this continent has been largely supplying.—New Outlook.

BREAD IN ENGLAND

There seems to be an effort on the part of bakers in the old country to boycott Canadian wheat in the manufacture of bread for Englishmen. It is related by returning visitors to England that here and there are exposed signs to the effect that no Canadian wheat is being used by the particular firm displaying the sign.
The impression sought to be left is that because of the effort of the Canadian producer to secure a reasonable price for his wheat, the English consumer would have to pay a high price for bread if Canadian wheat was used. The English baker is actually cheating his customers by not employing Canadian wheat. He is buying cheap and inferior wheat from other sources than Canada, but he is not passing the benefit on to the customer by paying top prices for low grade bread, and Canada is being deprived of its legitimate market for high grade wheat.

The English baker ought at least to be honest with his customers.
There is no reason why he should not buy cheap wheat if he is so inclined, but he ought to give his customers the benefit of the difference in cost, which apparently he does not do, but takes the whole profit, to his own enrichment. Possibly some day the English consumer may wake up to the trick this is being played on him.—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

CALGARY MUSEUM
HAS RARE PAPER

In a glass case in the Calgary Museum lies a rare old copy of the London "Times," dated November 7, 1805. Moreover, it contains the first official news of Nelson's great victory and ending at the Battle of Trafalgar, which took place on October 21, 1805. That it took 17 days for news of the important tidings to reach London from Spain is significant in these days, when such a message would be transmitted in less than that many minutes.

On the page of the newspaper which is exhibited are also the casually lists, classified according to shipping, and signed by "C. Colling-wood," Nelson's co-commander. To match the "human interest" story of the modern newspaper is a pathetic account of the great commander's last moments aboard the "Victory."

PRINTER ALWAYS TO BLAME

It may be sad, but still it's true.
There's one thing all we humans do.
And that is, blame the printer.
He does his best without our help.
For all we do is stand and yelp.
Then cuss, and blame the printer.

We wrote our manuscript by pen.
To read it is beyond our ken.
Yet we expect the printer
To work it out and get it right;
We think not of his time or sight,
If wrong, we blame the printer.

We hold our stuff until the last.
Then try to rush it thru so fast
The printer gets snogged under.
But still we camp upon his tail,
And prod him on with awful tales.
Or rant and rave like thunder.

He shoots it thru, the proof we get—
But find the job is not right yet.
We chop that proof to splinters.
It takes two days before he knows
Just what each hieroglyphic shows—
A dud lot are those printers.

The job's delivered! Some relief!
To know we're thru with rush and grief;
We ought to thank the printer.
But, no! The poor man's luck is out!
He overcharged us without doubt;
Once more we cuss the printer.

First Municipal Hospital
Established by Woman

(By Edna Kella)
Women have played an important part in the establishment of hospitals in Alberta. The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church, and the Women's Institutes have all established hospitals and assumed the greater part of the responsibility for their upkeep. The Sisters of Charity also have several hospitals in the province, while the early struggles of many a pioneer settlement were lightened by the private nurse who operated a private hospital, mostly at a loss to herself.
But it was left for one woman on her own initiative and through her efforts to establish the first municipal hospital in that great district lying between Lamont and Saskatoon on the Canadian National Railway. Miss Teetgen, an Englishwoman, remembered as "The Lady With the Green Veil," a name given her because of the fact that she wore a green veil draped over her head, but was responsible for the building of the cottage hospital at Islay which is now a part of the chain of Municipal hospitals.

The Lady Minto hospital, as it was first known, was an eight bed and two cot hospital, built in 1912, at a cost of $5,000. Of this amount $2,000 was granted from the Lady Minto hospital fund, the rest was raised by Miss Teetgen around Islay and in Edmonton where her idea met with favor.

An editorial in the Vermilion Standard of June 5, 1912, relates in brief, the hospital history:

Miss Teetgen, an English lady,
came to visit her sister at Islay.

The Great West Festival at Calgary

Picturesque costumes, pretty girls, clever dancers, marvelous exhibitions of native handicrafts will be among the offerings given to the public at the big folkdance, folk song and handicrafts festival
scheduled to be held at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, March 19-23 next.
A score of nations whose people have come over to the Dominion to swell the number of New Canadians in the West will show the treasures of art accumulated during the centuries of their national history and Canadian culture will be given an impetus from the source which has always been the element of great art. This Calgary festival is the third of similar ones held at Winnipeg and Regina, and the first two proved so successful and awakened such interest that Premier Brownlee of Alberta asked for their repetition this spring.

They are organized by the Canaadian Pacific Railway and the coming one is also in co-operation with the Canadian Handicrafts Guild, Alberta Branch. Lay-out shows:

cers; lower right, Irish Colleen in costume; lower left, Hungarian garian make.

EFFECT OF TALK

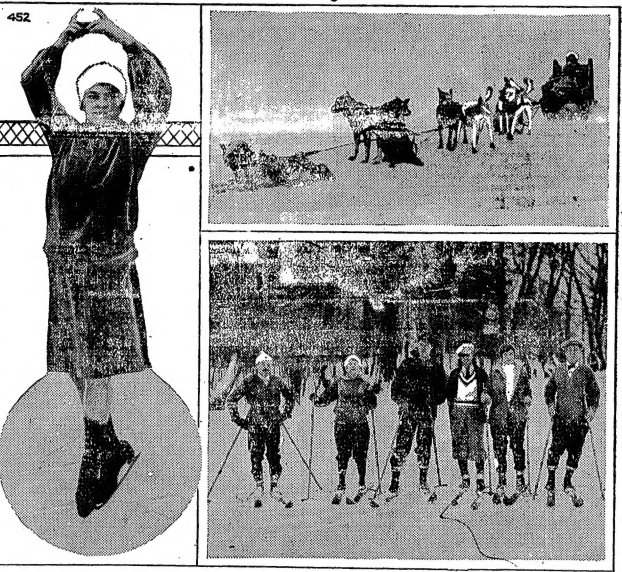

(By Welt Mason)

I hear men saying all around, "The country's business is quite sound; the blow-up on the stock exchange some time ago was sad and strange, and people thought times would be hard but this great land was scarcely jagged. The big men lined up everywhere to ease our spirits of despair;
they said 'We had no ample cause for rending beads or wringing paws.'
Because all men are talking thus, and no one stops to whine or cuss, the country's jogging right along, the cills are busy, banks are strong, the workman has his dinner pail chuck full of terrapin and quail, the housewife has a goodly ward to order garments from abroad, and even poets, lean and lank, can put some keepeks in the bank. And I remember darkened years when everyone was shedding tears. In nineteen-seventeen I recall how people leaped against the wall and wept like Rachel wept in enlarged. Now it has provision for sixteen patients.

"and all our hopes are lying dead.
Our hilwaks are knocked out of plumb, and oh, the worst is yet to come. The banks will bust, the merchants fail, and everyone will land in jail, the army worms will kill the hay, the hens will all refuse to lay.
Stark ruin stares us in the face, and so we seek the waiting place, where we will paw the earth and howl—the present's fierce, the future's foul."
And since the people talked like that,
insisting they were hammered flat,
before they'd suffered much of grief, there was no succor or relief. The times were hard without a doubt, and hosts of men were counted out because they fumed and pawed the dirt and wept and yelled ere they were hurt.

A python's eggs are about the same size as those of a hen. After laying about a hundred, the female coils herself around them and remains thus until the young are hatched. This takes two months, during which time
the snake fasts.

All Set for Quebec Winter Sports

The winter season of sport at Quebec City with headquarters at the Chateau Frontenac is now well on its way to make 1930 the best year so far experienced at the Ancient Capital. The international Dog Sled Derby, the grand snowshoe race, and sham attack on the citadel will be the high lights of the season, but right now, there is an influx of winter sport lovers at Quebec. Lay-out shows Aileen Riggan, former Olympic diving champion, leaving for a mush in dog sled from Chateau Frontenac where she is a guest. Inset is a group of skiers and Miss Riggan proving that diving is not her only strong card
but that fancy skating is also one of her accomplishments.

FINAL INSTALLMENT.

CHAPTER VII

"He'll go where he belongs, where he chooses to belong, Modane," said Lucy.

"I got you, Ma'am. A man finds his own level and that sort of thing. But that stuff goes for Sweeney when there's a dame rung in on the play. Say, if he wasn't a regular person, I'd say you were right to play your own hand. But Ma'am I was a crooked guy when he picked me up. I'd brought him out of the water when he was goin' down, but most gents would 'a slipped me some coin and let it go at that. Not Mr. Stevens. He made an honest man out of me. Knew I was phony and all that. Made an American out of me, too. Say, Ma'am, if I was worth a play, don't you think he's worth one?"

She stared at him.

"Maybe, Modane, you're right," she said.

He rose and moved awkwardly until he stood towering over her.

"I don't ever intend to let you play with me again," he threatened.

"Suppose I weren't playing," she replied.

He turned away from her, and sank into another chair, but closer to her.

"Lucy, I can't believe—"

"Why did you tell me that Modane saved my life, when it was you who did so?" she asked.

"Why should I say anything that might win your gratitude?" he evaded.

"Isn't my gratitude worth taking?" she demanded.

"Who would take gratitude when he wanted love?" he snapped.

"Do you expect me to woo you, to make love to you, Tim?"

"Is it love that brought you here, Lucy?"

"What else could have done it?" she cried. "Tim, you're making me

"I do," she made reply. And with the words she felt a surging pride in her surrender.

Opposite the ruins of the Palm Beach Hotel, the Minerva was moored. At the concrete dock of the Royal Duval waited a motor-boat.

"We was to take the lady aboard, Ma'am," said Modane. "But I don't think we need to wait around to explain to her."

"Nor do I," said Lucy.

She stepped into the motor-boat and five minutes later she was aboard the Minerva.

She heard a step upon the deck behind her. It was a feeble, somewhat uncertain step, but there was dominance in it just the same. As though some old Roman emperor, ensconced, stalked his palace, stronger in his age than his subjects in their youth.

An exclamation sounded in the scented air.

"What the devil are you doing here? You got my message—"

She turned and looked at him. Lanterns on the deck illumined her face.

"Lucy!" he said.

He sank heavily into a chair; she felt a swift pity as she saw his weakness. He would not be strong, really strong, for months.

"Tim," she said quietly.

He put a hand upon his heart.

"You were always stimulating, Lucy," he said, "but now you've become exciting. May I ask what you are doing here?"

"Must a wife explain her presence upon her husband's property?" she retorted.

"A wife needn't," he said.

"Well," she hinted.

"Lucy!" There was something almost savage in the way he uttered her name.

fiance of the soul that is unwilling to blend its identity with another, had made her shrink from him, even as every fiber in her body had called to him.

He wasn't a brute. Equally he was no thief, for a thief didn't have eyes like his, couldn't have eyes like his. Candor, decency, was in them for all the world to see. He might be overbearing, he might be slightly vain—God bless him, why shouldn't he have his little vanity if he wanted?—but dishonest—never!

She placed her hands swiftly against his face and held his mouth from hers.

"Tim," she breathed, "you didn't steal!"

His eyes twinkled with mirth.

"Of course not, silly. But do you think I would have told you so? Darn it, Lucy! you have pride enough to be able to understand pride! But Leeson's client was certain that he'd been swindled. And I—I was so damned angry with him for doubting me that—Well it was my first business venture, not really a business venture, at that. He and I had bought a patent, and I'd told him that I'd guarantee it. I meant I'd guarantee the validity of the patent and he maintained I'd guaranteed the practicability of the invention—a new motor valve. He had letters that supported his contention, although I had letters which proved my side. But I'd gambled and lost. And to pay him, I mortgaged everything I owned and then you beloved Leeson—who damn well ought to be careful what he says—and I—I loved you, Lucy. I'd almost killed myself because of your thoughtless, spiteful lie. And I took your check and let you think the worst. And then, I swore I'd pay you back not with my own money that I'd raised by selling stocks and mortgages, but with money that I'd earned."

"Silly boy! But I like your pride. And you had the money all the time, you child?"

"Of course I did. I was writing a check for Leeson when you came, with your bundle of money and your bundle of nerves and your bundle of emotions, and—I swore I didn't care whether you thought me a thief or not. I'd make you love the thief, and then, if you loved the thief, what might you not think of the honest man?"

She shook her head.

"No more than I thought of the thief, Tim. I couldn't love you any more than I did ten minutes ago, when I didn't know that you were as silly—"

"As Devil-May-Care sometimes is!" he suggested, smiling.

"As she was," she corrected. "For she isn't—not any more."

"Never again?" he chuckled.

"I'm a married woman," she reminded him, "and no married woman has a right to be silly."

"No? And why not?" he inquired.

"Because men are always silly, and some one has to be the balance wheel to keep the machine on its course, to keep it from tipping over."

"Devil-May-Care in a new role—the sober matron," he jeered.

"I can be that, Tim. The night that you—the night of Mrs. Clay's party—I was talking to some one and it was Mr. Leeson?—and I said that I was really an old-fashioned girl. Well, old man, I am exactly that."

"You can hardly make me believe that, Lucy," he mocked.

"Oh, yes I am," she insisted. "And I can prove it. I'm so old-fashioned that, having my husband's arms around me, I want to kiss him. I don't want to say another word; I want to be kissed. New-fashioned girls want to talk, but I want to be kissed."

"Well, that's one little thing I can do for you, Lucy," he smiled.

His lips crushed against hers. Ah, who wanted freedom, when she could have this? Blessed old Fate! Dear old Fate, who'd guided Lucy through these Stevens straight to where she belonged—to her husband's arms!

THE END

Headaches Were So Bad They Kept Her Awake

Headaches seem to be habitual with some people; some are seldom, if ever, free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains; sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, for unless the cause is removed the headaches will still continue to exist, and the fact that keeps the stomach, liver and bowels loaded up is good enough to show that it will eliminate the cause of the headache.

Mrs. A. M. Armstrong, New Aberdeen, N.S., writes: "For a period I had been troubled with headaches and they were so bad that I could not sleep. I was advised by a friend, after having read many different kinds of medicine, to try Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking three bottles, I was completely relieved, and can recommend it to be a perfect medicine."

Men Past 40 Should Read This!

It is claimed that 7 out of 10 men near or past middle age are subject to Bladder Weakness, which, if neglected, may mean years of suffering and daily annoyance.

First signs of such condition may come in early life, but they are usually more noticeable after 40—pains in back, nervousness, a feeling of weight in the groin, grinding, painful urination, too frequent calls and getting-up nights.

While serious, if neglected—it is ordinarily a simple matter to relieve these troubles by the pleasant home use of Dr. Southworth's URATABS, which have been victorious in thousands of cases, after other treatments had failed.

No matter how serious or how long standing your condition may be, you can quickly prove the value of URATABS without risk of cost—for any good druggist will supply you on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back. If "URATABS" bring you quick and certain comfort, you will be greatly pleased. If they do not fully satisfy, they will cost you nothing. Try URATABS today!

ASKS GOVERNMENT HANDLE BEER SALE

The solution to the beer parlor problem in Alberta is not prohibition but government control of beer parlors, according to F. S. Wright, president of the northern Alberta branch of the Moderation league.

"The remedy is not prohibition with its accompanying evils of prescriptions, drug stores and bootleggers, as our friends the prohibitionists would have you believe," he suggests. "And it is not the interference with the privileges of every citizen who is moderate, but the elimination of the opportunity for the private profiteer to make more profit."

"Every drop of liquor sold in Alberta should be sold direct by the government and so every responsibility in connection with such sale should rest with the government," Mr. Wright believes.

"The liquor vendor buys all hard liquors direct from the manufacturer and dispenses the same direct to the consumer. Surely this method can also be applied to the sale of Alberta beer," Mr. Wright says.

The Times invites the cooperation of residents of the country districts. Correspondents from districts not now represented in this paper are requested to write in for correspondence paper and particulars.

A Bad Cold Finally Ended In Bronchitis

Mr. Albert Schuler, Kelowna, B.C., writes: "For several weeks I had a very bad cold, and finally it ended in bronchitis."

"I had been trying all kinds of medicine, but none of it seemed to do me any good."

"Finally I saw where Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was advertised as a relief for bronchitis, so I got a bottle and after I had taken it I started to improve, and by the time I had finished the second one I was entirely free of my trouble."

"Price 35 cents a bottle; large family size 60 cents, at all druggists or dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont."

CURLING NOTES

Two rinks of Wetaskiwin lady curlers are planning to go to Red Deer next week to compete in the bonspiel being staged there by the Ladies' Curling Club of that city.

Bert Taylor and his rink of husky curlers have returned home from the Edmonton bonspiel. They had a good time, but did not succeed in getting in the jewelry class. They reached the eighth in the E.C.D., when they were defeated by Heartwell of Rosetown, Sask.

The mixed curl on the local ice is creating the greatest interest among the Wetaskiwin curlers. Many very close games have been played, and the greatest enthusiasm prevails.

BAKER REFUTES IDEA SCHOOLS ARE WORSE

Edmonton, Feb. 8.—The school system of Alberta has progressed rather than retrogressed, as had been alleged in some quarters, declared Hon. Fern Baker, Minister of Education, in speaking in the Legislature yesterday.

In dealing with the school system, he said that the Government had done much to expand schools all over the province, as had been alleged in some quarters, declared Hon. Fern Baker, Minister of Education, in speaking in the Legislature yesterday.

commonly known as "New Canadians" had shown the extension of more than 100 schools from one-room buildings to two-room schools.

Dealing with the salary schedule proposed under the new act, he wondered, in respect to those who supported the adoption of a salary schedule and yet opposed the larger unit, how it would be possible to apply this schedule to the rural schools of 3,000 school boards controlling one teacher each? This was a problem.

Was it possible to have all boards agree to it? Should the Government prescribe a schedule and say the boards must adhere to it? He would not be responsible for such an action.

But supposing, for argumentative purposes, this was done? Then what might happen? When a teacher rose to within striking distance of top salary many districts undoubtedly would find means to get rid of the teacher salaried on the higher schedule and hire one starting on the lower one. This was entirely feasible as many good teachers could be had for $1,000 a year.

He thought administration was not the only school problem. Experimentation was another necessity and this was being done to some extent.

In Alberta, he said, the greatest problem was not to find a new and better way of conducting schools but to devise ways and means of making the schools available to the great majority of children. This could be done only when there was the proper machinery for so doing and the present system was hampering the attainment of this happy condition.

The Minister gave a resume of education within the province and gave an unqualified denial to the charge that it was in the process of retrogression.

Teachers today were better trained the academic standing had been raised, training periods had been increased and the private teaching periods had been lengthened. A school board branch had been added, the curriculum had been revised, correspondence courses added and in general the whole educational system had been made more efficient.

Total educational appropriations for 1929-30 were $2,444,292, exceeding the sum spent 10 years ago by $1,097,033, he said, while school grants for 1929 were $1,363,533, an increase of $621,395 in 10 years. The highest point of school organization was reached in 1911, when 282 new districts were organized, but this dropped to 86 in 1921 and to a low level of 22 in 1925, while in 1929 it had risen to 75, the highest figure since 1921.

Enrolment in 1929 was 164,550, an increase of 43,233 in 10 years, while 5345 rooms were in operation, an increase of 1217 in the same period. In 1929, 93 per cent of schools operated 180 days or more; ten years ago only 66 per cent reached this point. Average monthly attendance percentage had risen in the same period from 82.5 to 87.23.

Last year, 841 rural schools gave grade 9 work and 357 grade 10; in 1929 only 327 rural schools had worked over grade 8. There were 13 rural high school grades in 1929 and none ten years ago, while enrolment in high school grades totalled 19,433 in 1929, an increase of 11,501 in 10 years and a 24 per cent increase in the last three years.

LABORER UNEARTHES HIDDEN TREASURE

Victoria, Feb. 8.—While excavation of the store street property for the placing of the foundation of the new building of the British Welding company, Harry Burnett unearthed a hidden treasure. The find, discovered two feet in the ground, consisted of two watches, hangers, pen, dant, brooches, locket, an English half crown, and many other miscellaneous items of jewelry. The articles were handed over to the city police.

Bombay, India, Feb. 8.—Twelve thousand five hundred workmen in the workshops of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway are now on strike as well as 6,000 of the total of 100,000 employed in the movement of traffic. A dispute over wages resulted in the strike.

ELECTION HELD IMPROBABLE NOW

London, Feb. 10.—Last week's by-election in the Brightside division of Sheffield, when a Laborite retained the seat on a minority vote, has removed the possibility of a general election for 1930. This is the comment heard at Westminster. The attitude of headquarters previously was that Conservatives and Laborites frowned on the idea of a general election this year, suspecting Labor of harboring designs in that direction.

FIRE INSURANCE SCHEME ADOPTED BY CONVENTION

Strong possibilities that school districts of the prairie provinces will take part in a pool fire insurance scheme, providing that the suggestion receives the added support of the Saskatchewan and Manitoba trustees, were revealed in the adoption of a report submitted by W. E. Turner, chairman of the insurance committee of the Alberta School Trustees' Association, at the annual convention of that body in the Central United church, Calgary.

This is the third convention of the Alberta trustees in which the insurance question has arisen. Last year a committee was appointed to look into the situation and since that time four joint meetings of a joint committee in which each of the three provincial trustee associations were represented by two delegates, have been held in Regina.

The first object sought, the report said, was the reduction of insurance premiums. Every avenue was explored in this connection, and delegates from the underwriters were presented upon two occasions, but seemed unwilling to try to meet the requests of the joint committee. Finally, a suggestion was brought in to form a mutual company, control of which would rest with the Associations but the stiff legal and financial requirements made the chances of success very slight unless an unprecedented response were to be met with from all school boards. Consequently, the decision was that this plan would not be adopted unless nothing else was possible.

At the last meeting, however, cooperation was secured from four of the largest mutual fire insurance companies operating in Western Canada in the formation of a pool plan of insurance, policies to be underwritten on a basis of 20 per cent under board rates. When all losses have been paid and the necessary deductions made for reserve and other funds, a careful audit will be made and the balance on hand devoted to the reduction of premiums on renewals.

It is understood that the Saskatchewan and Manitoba trustees' associations will be convening this month, and Mr. Turner expressed confidence that their approval would also be given to the scheme.

HEAVY AGENDA AWAITS HOUSE

Edmonton, Feb. 10.—With the budget and the discussion over the natural resources agreement set down for this week, the legislature faces a heavy agenda.

Hon. R. G. Reid will bring down the budget on Tuesday, which will start off what usually turns out to be a heated and protracted debate.

It is not known yet whether the natural resources discussion, once begun, will be carried through to a conclusion, or whether there will be an adjournment of debate following Premier Brownlee's initial speech. The probabilities are in favor of the latter.

LIBERAL LEADER CRITICIZES GOVT.

In speaking to the speech from the Throne on Wednesday last, Jos. T. Shaw, K.C., Liberal leader said in part: "There has been so far, in this debate, a tendency by government speakers to look upon the present time as a special milestone separating the past from the future in political matters and to spend much time romancing on the alleged achievements of the present government during its tenure of office."

We are reminded that surpluses are now the order where in earlier years deficits were the rule. To the casual observer, to the superficial thinker on things political, this may seem a matter of first importance. But when one considers that a surplus of income over expenditure means that the surplus is drawn out of the taxpayers' pocket, and that such additional burden is neither expected, desirable nor necessary, one is rather inclined to lay less stress on its importance.

The question of primary importance is whether or not our people are too heavily tax burdened, whether the financial burdens should not be lightened. We have a population in Alberta of slightly over 600,000 souls, only one out of every five being a taxpayer. Therefore 120,000 people must pay the costs of our provincial government. For the last fiscal year the public revenue collected by the government amounted to $15,265,083. An average per taxpayer of $127.00. In 1921, when this government took office, the revenue collected in taxes amounted to only $8,456,446, or slightly more than half of last year's total, or an average per taxpayer of about $70.00.

Again it is well to remember that the public debt—the mortgage on our province—is rapidly increasing. The last available figures show a year's increase amounting to over $6,000,000. This government's addition to the public debt since 1922 and up to March 31, 1929, amounts to the not inconsiderable item of over $27,000,000. This added debt burden means added interest burden, which must be shouldered by the taxpayer.

We think the time is overdue for tax reduction. The supplementary revenue is of a character and amount which having in mind our surplus, should be eliminated or substantially reduced. The repeal of that tax will give proportionate relief to city and country alike.

Speaking about highways, I note that for the last recorded fiscal year that the government collected on income tax account: For auto licenses, $3,124,972.50; from gasoline tax, $1,306,627.32; making a total of $3,431,599.82.

In the same period the total expenditure on roads was $4,827,237.75. To provide for this expenditure the minister borrowed $2,697,350.04, increasing the public debt by that amount and for this highway construction used up from income account only $2,219,857.59 of the $3,431,599.82 collected for auto licenses and from the gasoline taxes. In other words, $1,217,442 collected for license and from the gasoline tax was not used for highway construction, but went into the general revenue fund, thereby swelling the surplus. In other words the minister of public works provided a surplus by adding to the public debt.

Speaking about auto licenses reminds me that the Liberal party favors a radical change. We do not see why the full annual license should always be insisted upon. If a farmer buys an auto in July why should he pay more than one half the annual license charge, especially now when the government collects a five cents gasoline tax. In our opinion, a person who takes out a license at any time other than on the first of January should pay pro rata only for the remaining portion of the year. More than that, if a person gives up his license for any reason, he should have a refund made for the period of the year remaining after the delivery up of the license plate.

Again we are told to look at our telephone department. That until the government got under way, our telephones were a source of recurring deficits, but now we are enjoying yearly surpluses. In this connection, one must not forget the increased levy made by the government on telephone users and the fact that more prosperous times have resulted in substantial additions to telephone users.

"Probably the most important matter referred to in the Throne speech is the natural resources agreement. Those who have preceded me are loud in their praises of the premier for the part he has played in the consummation of that agreement. I would not deny him the fullest credit for his work, but, unlike the previous speakers, I am not unmindful of the fact the premier is like ordinary mortals, quite unable to make an agreement unless other persons are willing; that an agreement must be made between at least two minds, and in this case, however well-intentioned he may have been, without the willing agreement of the Federal Government the premier could not have achieved any success at this time.

"We have indeed a remarkable inheritance, but it is our duty to lust on same, orderly and wise development, never again allowing our utilities and public services to outrun settled and promising communities. I do not know if the government yet has taken any steps to make adequate provisions for these new and great responsibilities.

"One must not forget that many Dominion government employees will be taken over. They now enjoy the benefit of a Civil Service Act giving alike security of tenure and freedom from political control. One of our first cares should have been to secure the passing at this session of a Civil Service Act suitable to our needs, insuring to each government employee the two mentioned essentials of a real Civil Service Act.

"We cannot afford to continue to pay these meagre salaries. They should be revised upward. The development and administration of our resources should be receiving the attention of a House committee even now. I am a firm believer in placing upon members the responsibility they have assumed and not readily giving way to the 'new despotism' of modern government.

ONE PRESCRIPTION MADE FAMILY DOCTOR FAMOUS

Seldom has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than that of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew so fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drugstore.

education. The record of the Government in this matter is, I think, deplorable. Finding a system that was functioning fairly effectively, they not only cut down grants, but worse still, chopped off a large part of the inspection staff. The result was, and has been, tragic. After much travail the Minister last year presented for our consideration his famous bill. The bill was not then pressed by the Government. In the intervening year, the Minister has traveled up and down the Province explaining this child of his creation. Travel stained but fresh from his conquests, I rather expected the Minister to boldly introduce his bill at once. I read the appropriate section of the Throne Speech. It is studiously vague. In other sections of the Throne Speech where bills are proposed, that fact is clearly set forth. 'I am wondering if the Minister proposes to introduce his bill this session. Will he please indicate. I venture to predict that this bill has gone the way of all flesh and has met an untimely grave.

"May I remind the Minister and the Government that in this matter of education we, who claim some interest in educational matters, have from the outset been anxious to assist in working out a suitable scheme for educational purposes. We have asked time and again to place this subject in the hands of a select committee of the House, but our suggestion, generously and sincerely made, has been consistently refused."

HELPLESS INVALID BURNED TO DEATH

Enveloped in flames when a blanket wrapped about her knees as she sat in front of a gas radiant in her home at suite D, Bernard block, Jasper east, caught fire, Mrs. Charles Lowe, 50, paralysis invalid, was fatally burned at 9:25 p.m. Sunday, death following at the Royal Alexandra hospital at 2:30 a.m. Monday. An inquest will be held, the date of which has not been set.

Spreading from the blanket, the flames burned Mrs. Lowe's clothing and caught on silk drapes hanging between an archway separating two rooms of the suite. With her legs paralyzed, Mrs. Lowe was unable to help herself and her screams took Angus Laing, janitor of the block, to her room, he dragging her to the door of the suite.

Getting one of the fire hose lines kept in the hallway of the block, he

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when baby is restless. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to make sure the youngest infant, you have the doctor's word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation may be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

LADIES' AID PLANS OLD TIME CONCERT

The February meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. F. Pacey, with the President, Mrs. J. W. West, in the chair. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Macdonald, the Rev. Macdonald gave a splendid address on "Home Missions". Plans were discussed for a Valentine social to be held at the home of Mrs. West on Thursday, February 13. The attractions will be games, violin, cornet and ukele solos, community singing, besides a Valentine booth. Lunch will be served. Come and have a good time. Everybody welcome.

Plans were also discussed for "Ye Olde Tyne Concert." Watch for announcements later. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Phillips and Miss Myers. The next meeting is at Mrs. C. A. Kent's on Thursday, March 6.

WEISENFORD W.I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Weisenford W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Loomis on February 6th. The roll call was answered by the exchanging of Valentines, but there being a small attendance, did not give much of a variety.

After the regular business discussion and reading of correspondence, a paper was read by Mrs. Brennan on "The Origin of St. Valentine's Day," and a vote of thanks read by the Secretary for a parcel of fruit sent to a sick friend.

Arrangements were made for a dance to be held in Telford school on February 14th. The meeting adjourned and a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess, and a pleasant hour spent in conversation.

MILLET W.A. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the W.A. was held at Mrs. Brinker's on February 6th, Rev. A. Murphy presiding. The financial report was read, it showing a very successful year. The following officers for 1930 were elected:

President—Mrs. Plant.
Vice-President—Mrs. Hamilton.
Secretary—Mrs. Bear.
Dores Secretary—Mrs. Stanley.
Superintendent of Jun. W.A.—Miss Camp.

The retiring officers wish to thank all members for their co-operation during 1929. A sewing meeting will be held at Mrs. C. S. Bear's on Thursday, February 13th.

Nine competitions, including men's and women's handicapped events, men's and women's team matches and mixed foursomes will feature the programme of the second annual Empire midwinter golf tournament to be played over the Colwood course at Victoria, February 17-22. The E.W. trophy is the chief award for the men's and women's handicap competitions.

Miss Connie Wilson, champion figure skater of North America and Great Britain, will take a star part in the Ice Pageant of the Frontenac Winter Sports Club to be staged at Quebec February 12-15. She will be supported by the best talent of Quebec and a group of stars from Toronto, including the championship four of the Toronto Skating Club. Ottawa will be represented by the Minto Skating Club and 24 skaters from Toronto will perform in the "Danse Moderne" number.

The greatest fireworks display of the year, the "Fete de Nuit" exhibition, recently staged at the features of the Winter Sports season which lasts until March, consisted of a sham attack by hundreds of snowmen. The E.W. trophy, upon the garrison of the citadel. The heavy explosions of Roman candles and fireworks began the attack, which culminated when the besiegers were driven back by the snowmen. The play after a volley of blanks crashing into the night. When the bugles sounded "Retreat Fire," the show was generally voted one of the finest in years.

The outstanding contributions that the Canadian Pacific Railway has made to the life of the Dominion in the past year, when the railway was emphasized by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the road, at a recent address before the Canadian Industrial Traffic League at Montreal recently. His company, he said, had in the past five years, spent over $240,000,000 on capital account alone and during the same period had built over 1,000 miles of branch lines, and with its decrease in earnings, he regarded as an exceptional year not likely to be repeated in subsequent years.

A considerable increase in grain shipments from Saint John has been established since the new year, over the entire month of December, 1929. The total tonnage of grain for December, shipped from Saint John totaled 500,000; from January 1 to January 17, total was 651,438.

The second annual Sea Music Festival of the Pacific Coast passed into history January 10, when the again capacity houses greeted the final offerings. Outstanding among the features were the two ballad operas, "The Order of Good Cheer," incorporating French-Canadian sea chanteys of the 19th century, and "Bound for the Rio Grande," a rollicking sea-song playlet by Captain Frederick Wallace. Each of these was repeated by request on three successive days.

The 16th annual winter carnival with the first official Western Canada Ski tournament will be held at Revelstoke, February 4-5. World records have been made on the ski hill at Revelstoke, and leading ski jumpers of the continent will attend the carnival.

Kidney and Bladder Trouble

Mr. J. Constock, Pincher Creek, Alta., writes: "I had been troubled with my kidneys and bladder for some time, and had to get up four or five times during the night."

"I tried several kinds of kidney and liver pills, but none of them seemed to do me any good."

"I thought I would try Dean's Kidney Pills and after taking one box I have been able to sleep all night long, and I now feel that they are the only thing to take for the kidneys and bladder, as I have not been troubled since taking this one box."

Price, 50 cents a box at all druggists and dealers, or a money order direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

"For three years I have been troubled with kidney trouble, and could scarcely walk for pain. Last Christmas a friend of mine sent me a box of Dean's Kidney Pills, and gave me a good dose. After about a week, taking a little every morning, I found the trouble leaving me, and I could walk well. I have taken Kruschen regularly until a month ago, and then I thought I could manage without them, but last week the old trouble came back again. I immediately got a box of Kruschen Pills and then there, and I feel quite a new woman again. I am so grateful that I thought I would write and tell you how well I like your wonderful pills. Original letter on file in London. (Mrs.) E. H. Kruschen, 10, St. James' Street, London, W. 1, England. A bottle contains enough for half-a-cent a day."

MILLET LOCAL NEWS

Wedding bells will soon be ringing. "Daisies won't tell."

Dr. Simpson made a professional call in the country recently.

L. P. Wright and Ernie Blades were out to Conjurung Creek on Friday.

The snowplows are keeping the roads in good condition for winter traffic.

Mrs. Simpson has returned to her position at the U.F.A. store in the village.

UNITED CHURCH REPORTS GIVEN

An interesting sermon was listened to by a very appreciative audience last Sunday evening in the United Church. The topic was "Is Heaven a place or state of mind?" At the close of the service reports were read from the different branches of service. From the Church Board, by Mrs. West; the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Higginson; the W.M.S., Mrs. Macdonald; the C.G.I.T., Irene Kent; the Trail Rangers, Adrian Kent; the Sunday School, Muriel Aikens; the Mission Band, Ruth Rowley.

A splendid address on Sunday school work was given by Mrs. T. Aikens, leader.

Two life member certificates in the Mission Band, were presented by Mrs. Macdonald, leader, to Ruth Rowley and Allison Macdonald.

Lunch was served at the close and a social hour enjoyed.

Mining in the territory now known as Canada may be said to have originated with the Indians. At Mammine Point, on the east end of Lake Superior, old trenches have been found on veins of native copper, together with old stone hammers used by the natives in breaking up the rock. Native copper from the Coppermine River, according to an article last August in the Mining Magazine, has been employed by Indians northeast of Great Bear Lake for generations, for spear and arrow points, knife blades and other tools.

Acidity

The common cause of digestive difficulties is excess acid. Soda cannot alter this condition, and it burns the stomach. Something that will neutralize the acidity is the sensible thing to take. That is why physicians tell the public to use Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this delightful preparation can neutralize many times its volume in acid. It acts instantly; relief is quick, and very apparent. All gas is dispelled; all sourness is soon gone; the whole system is sweetened. Do try this perfect anti-acid, and remember it is just as good for children, too, and pleasant for them to take.

Any druggist has the genuine, prescriptive product.

BIBLE INSTITUTE

Because of the interesting manner in which the courses here are being taught, the young people are making marked advancements in the somewhat difficult lessons.

The Sunday afternoon meeting at the Swedish Baptist Church was conducted by pupils of the school.
Last Monday evening a visit was made to the neighboring German Baptist Church out west. Thanks are extended to our friends for the fellowship, kindness and hospitality shown. Rev. E. Hansell delivered a touching message portraying vividly his favorite theme "The Mystery of The Cross."

Over forty people assembled in the classroom Tuesday, enjoying a social evening of fellowship with one another. The paper had handshake did its part in creating the atmosphere of gaiety.

Last week many took advantage of the special service held by Rev. Hansell at the Swedish Baptist Church. Even a larger crowd is expected this Thursday to hear the lecture "The Rich Man's Church." Contributed.

GOLD STRIKE IS CONFIRMED

Fairbanks, Alaska, Feb. 8.—Confirmation of a rich gold strike in the Ruby district between Fairbanks and Nome reached here Friday by aeroplane. The strike was made on Poorman and Wolfe creek. Warehoused and was reported, especially rich on Beaver creek, where it was said that the ground ran as high as six dollars a foot and $1.20 to the pan. Preliminary surveys indicated that the pay streak on Beaver creek was at least 60 feet, it was said, and that it extended for a mile.
Rumors of the gold strike have been current for several days, but authentic reports did not reach here until yesterday. The town of Ruby has been converted into a booming mining town because of the strike.

5,000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

The public will welcome the 1930 edition of "5,000 Facts About Canada" compiled by Frank Leigh, the well-known authority on the Dominion. This 80-page book is a marvel of condensation as it reveals the story of our country in a nut shell—a story that is as stirring as it is illuminating. This issue contains much new matter and many new features. Copies may be had from newsdealers or by sending 35 cents for a copy, or $1 for three copies, to the Canadian Facts Pub. Co., 588 Huron St., Toronto 5.

DATE SET FOR BIG BROKERAGE TRIAL

Calgary, Feb. 8.—W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, faced with charges of fraud, will appear in court here on Monday, March 17, for preliminary hearings. The two men, heads of the firm of Solloway Mills and company, stock brokers, were charged with fraud in connection with operation of their company which has branches in practically every leading city in the Dominion.

Following brief argument yesterday, Magistrate Sanders granted remand of five weeks. His action marked the executives' fourth remand since their first appearance in Calgary police court on January 15.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:
Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmitin (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize their pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective. Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

C.P.R. PLANNING TO SPLIT STOCK

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The Canadian Pacific railway gave notice today of intended application to parliament this session to change the par value of its ordinary shares from $100 to $25. For every $100 share there will be four of the new but with the par reduced. The purpose it is said is to popularize the security and encourage people of modest means to invest. By the act of 1881 the dividend on a par of $100 is limited to ten per cent. By implication it will now be $2.50 a share.
Mr. Beatty's announcement had the effect of quickly running up the stock to 218 after opening at 209½.
